'Let Us Not Fail to Do Everything in Our Power to Support This Invasion,' Urges Gardiner; Air Raid Wardens to Solicit In Merion

With the great invasion of Hitler's Europe underway, preparations for the 5th War Loan Drive opening Monday gained new impetus in the Lower Merion-Narberth area.

Hundreds of workers have been enrolled to make a house-to-house canvass of the section's homes, many of whose sons are represented in the Allied armies battling their way into France and giving them all that freedom may live again.

"In view of what is now going on in Europe, there should be no need for canvassers to 'sell' bonds to our residents," declared James L. Gardiner, chairman of the Drive in Lower Merion and Narberth.

"We believe that everyone will want to buy bonds to the very limit of his or her ability. It is the least we can do to 'back the attack' and insure our boys, who are giving the material they now need so vitally. The slogan of this campaign, 'Buy More Than Before,' has added meaning to all of us today. Let us not fail to do everything in our power to support this invasion, the greatest in history, and with it our hopes of a speedy end to the War in Europe," Gardiner said.

The quota for the Drive in this area of $4,400,000, which is approximately one million more than was raised in the Fourth War Loan campaign, exclusive of the Autocar Company's subscription.

A joint committee of labor and management have formed an Autocar to take charge of canvassing of the big plant's employees during the Drive. David P. Mahwinny, President of Local 131, United Automobile Workers, and Robert F. Wood, advertising manager of the company, are co-chairmen of the committee. A rally is being planned for Autocar employees on June 15, it was announced.

In Merion, where the Air Raid Wardens constitute the bond selling organization and a highly successful one during past campaigns, canvassing for the War Bonds and for the Military Ballot date, which is being conducted throughout the Township by the Civilian Defense organization, is expected to be combined with the Wardens knocking off two birds with one stone.

In the Haverford District, where John Maroney is chairman, Mordecai D. Brown has been appointed vice chairman. A large group of workers is set to begin work on the Drive.

The meetings of captains and wardens have been held this week in several districts, including Wynnewood at Chairman Herbert K. Ball's home Wednesday, Overbrook Heights at the Penn Wynne Five House, Narberth at the Borough Council Chamber in Elm Hall Tuesday night.

Application forms and other material may be obtained from Area Chairman Gardiner at the Pennsylvania Company's Ardmore office.

the Senate envisaged by the Constitution.

"My idea," said Mr. Gibson, "is that this Council of National Defense should be an autonomous government department made up of full-time representatives of all branches of the government having to do with foreign affairs. It should for obvious reasons be under the jurisdiction of the Secretary of State and made up of high-ranking, responsible representatives of the Departments of the Treasury, Commerce, War, Navy and some of the alphabetically I would also make the radical suggestion that it should include majority and minority representatives of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations and the House Committee on Foreign Affairs."

The speaker criticized current efforts to repeal the two-thirds rule for ratification of treaties, substituting a mere majority vote of both Houses of Congress.

"There was a reason," Mr. Gibson explained, "for prescribing a two-thirds vote. A treaty is the most formidable instrument we can adopt, far more binding than any domestic law that can be passed by a majority vote."

In the presence of the Haverford faculty and a large body of alumni, Mr. Gibson characterized the ignorance of Americans in the field of history as "shocking." He cited every instance of ignorance among college students as disclosed in the New York Times survey a year ago, and concluded that in the field of international cooperation "we shall be seriously handicapped until our citizens are equipped with a better knowledge of history."

Degrees were awarded to fourteen undergraduates, for the most part survivors of the class which entered Haverford, over one hundred strong, three months before Pearl Harbor.

ANSWERS for Victory Gardeners

What Kind of a Spray Shall I Use in My Garden Against Insects?

The kind of spray you use depends upon the kind of insect which you must combat. There are two general types of insects, and there are sprays suitable for each. You must consider whether you have chewing or sucking insects and then buy your spray accordingly.

What Is the Difference Between Chewing and Sucking Insects?

Chewing insects have mouth parts. We might say they have teeth, and they eat just like a cow eats grass in the pasture. Many of the eaters not only use their mouths to get food, but they use them also to burrow their way into the plants, thus making themselves a home. Typical of these are the borers which get into the vine crops, and the apple worm which eats its way into the apple. Other eaters live on the leaves of plants and will strip a plant if left alone. On the other hand, the sucking insects have long snouts or bills like a mosquito. They puncture the skin of the plant and draw sap through the snout.

What Are the Methods By Which You Kill the Two Types of Insects?

Most insects at some time in their lives can be destroyed through what we call a contact spray. In other words, a spray which will paralyze and destroy them when it contacts their bodies. Black Leaf 40 is such a spray and is used on almost all sucking insects. In fact, if it is used faithfully in the garden, it will usually do the entire job. For instance, on a potato vine, Black Leaf 40 will kill the Colorado potato beetle in the nymph stage. However, the grown beetles can be readily destroyed with lead arsenate sprayed on the leaves and at least cost. So we handle potato beetles in that way. On the other hand, lead arsenate is absolutely without effect on aphids. Therefore, Black Leaf 40 is used to control them.

How Shall I Apply Spray in the Garden for Best Results?

There are two important rules to follow for successful spraying. One is to spray early, before the insects have become numerous, and the other rule is to spray thoroughly. These rules apply no matter what type of spray material you are using. If you will follow these two rules, your insect problem will largely be solved for you. The tendency on the part of the beginner is to neglect the under sides of the leaves. Insects hide away to keep from sunlight, birds and other enemies. Unless you get down and get under, you haven't done a job.

Why Do You Say Spray Early?

The need for spraying early in the season, as soon as the garden gets started, lies in the fact that once insects start breeding, each individual increases in tremendous numbers. It is a lot easier to destroy millions of "generations unborn" of insects than to wait until they are hatched. There is no use letting insects get a start on you in trying to solve this problem later! If you spray early in the year and do a good job, your crop will come through with much less attention when it reaches the ripening stage.

EGYPT FERTILE IN HISTORY

More of the world's history has been excavated in Egypt's valley of the Nile than from any other place on earth, and centuries from now, historians may dig up remains of past Nazi legions from beneath Egypt's shifting sands.

DAILY DOZEN

Prepared for the Local Health Board by the Medical Society of the State

Air is composed of 1 part oxygen and 4 parts nitrogen.

Pure oxygen is used in emergency treatment at hospitals.

It is used in various ways and in different conditions.

In the operating room, it is mixed with anesthetics.

Oxygen is used in treating victims of gas poisoning.

It is frequently used in pneumonia cases.

The average length of oxygen treatment is about two weeks.

It is used for some heart patients and after operations.

Oxygen may be valuable in treatment at home.

Apparatus consists of a bed tent or a mask over the face.

Oxygen makes up for the patient's deficiency in breathing.

Oxygen has saved countless lives.

Does YOUR face seem different?

There are no two faces in the whole world exactly alike.

Yet there is certain conformity about the human face.

To be extremely different, facially, can be a handicap.

Facial deformity may be the result of dental neglect.

Excessive thumb sucking can change the lower part of the face.

Harelip or accidental injury may cause facial deformity.

Many facial deformities can be corrected.

Excessive facially deformed will draw away from playmates.

He finds his face a barrier to companionship with others.

Later psychological reactions disturb his mental outlook.

Your face is your fortune—build it up.

Left-handedness is no deterrent to skill.

Four per cent of the population is left-handed.

It is no disgrace to be left-handed.

Many of the world's greatest personages have been left-handed.

Leonardo da Vinci, Michelangelo and Holbein were "lefties."

Many star athletes are left-handed.

Left-handedness is often associated with unusual skill.

The motor-function of the hand is left-handed.

They endeavor to make him use his right hand.

This is wrong and may lead to nervousness or mental upset.

Use of the left hand of the hands is controlled by the brain.

To attempt to alter this motor-function is dangerous.

The fat man's race at the Summer picnic may be amusing.

Many lives have been shortened by this ridiculous stunt.

Exercise is as much a part of life as eating and sleeping.

To a lot of persons, it is recreational and healthful.

To others, it is harmful.

As is the over-strenuous weekend for the otherwise inactive.

Or an exhausting school game for the physically unfit.

About 12 men who are worried about his supposedly weak heart.

He becomes a chronic weakling through this wrong advice.

Yearly physical check-ups will uncover such errors.

Physical exercise is a part of modern medical treatment.

It has been related to health since about 2,000 B. C.

What is the price and how many ration points?

They make little difference in the nutritive value of meat.

Compare low-point cuts of meat with expensive cuts of meat.

They have about the same value in protein, minerals, vitamins and energy.

A stew or pot-roast has abundant food value.

The average housewife knows about 12 meat-hoys in the market.

These are the popular ones with which she is familiar.

Meats should be handled carefully in the home.

Wrapping paper absorbs the meat juice and should be removed.

Fresh meat should be in the coldest part of the refrigerator.

Low-cooking temperature is the best for preparing meats.

Trichinella spiralis has a pleasant, musical sound.

Trichinella spiralis is actually a nasty little parasite.

It hides in pork and is transferred to man.

This parasite lays its eggs deep in human tissue.

As the eggs hatch, the young parasites pass about the body.

They bury themselves in the muscles in tiny cysts or sacs.

They cause a serious disorder known as trichinosis.

Symptoms include diarrhea, nausea, colic and fever.

Later there is pain, muscle swelling, sweating, insomnia.

Prevent trichinosis by thorough and thorough cooking.

All food containing pork should be thoroughly cooked.

Don't eat half-cooked "hot dogs" made from uninspected meat.

ENGAGED

MISS GLORIA M. HARP

Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe A. Harp, of 96 West Levering Mill Road, Cynwyd, announced the engagement of their daughter, Gloria Markwood Harp, and Henry August Kuehl, Jr., son of the Reverend and Mrs. Henry August Kuehl, of Emmaus, Pennsylvania.

Miss Harp, a graduate of Lower Merion High School, has completed her junior year at Cedar Crest College, where she is president of the Y. W. C. A., a member of the Glee Club, Ophelo, and Alpha Kappa Alpha, national philosophical fraternity.

Mr. Kuehl will graduate from Moravian College at the end of this summer and is in his second year at the Moravian Theological Seminary.

Sports Scene

that he had the best material in the league. "We were fortunate at that," he says, "because we persisted in doing the darnedest things at the worst possible times."

However, the Fords were on their perfect behavior in the playoff game and won rather convincingly. They collected just seven hits of southpaw Phil Harman, the L. M. basketball star, and made every one count in the run making.

Haverford bunched three consecutive hits for two runs in the first inning and then added single markers in the third, fifth and sixth innings. Roy (Ace) Bell, last year's second baseman, led the attack with a double and home run.

Charlie Gunther pitched Haverford to victory—its third of the season over L. M. by the way—allowing only four hits and fanning seven. He was denied a shutout when an error by Bell allowed L. M.'s two runs to score in the fifth.

Gen Reeves, Lower Merion coach, also deserves a hearty slap on the back for his feat of piloting the Maroon to its most successful diamond season since 1933, when L. M. won its only pennant. Reeves came up with two fine pitchers in Harman and Bill West but uneasy fielding was the team's undoing. They made a gosh-awful total of 23 errors in two successive games, 14 coming in one contest. Which ought to be some kind of a record.

Sacred Heart of Manoa and Annunciation of Brookline will stage a three-game playoff for the championship of the Delco Catholic League title next week. The Manoa team won the first half, while Annunciation finished on top in the second half.

The Merion Cricket Club ended Cynwyd's three-year reign in the Philadelphia Interclub Lawn Tennis League although it could earn no better than a 3-3 tie with Cynwyd in the final league match at Merion Sunday. E. Foster Hammonds, Merion, defeated John Custer, Cynwyd, 6-2, 6-2, in the No. 1 singles.

Two Upper Darby High stars were signed by big league clubs last week. Ted Ely, pitcher who was ineligible this Spring because of the PIAA semester rule, was signed by the Cubs and farmed out to Bradford, Infielder Frank DiPrima, who played a couple games with Manoa in the Main Line League, was signed by the Phillies and sent to Wilmington of the Inter-State League.

Merion finished the league season with 13 matches won and five lost, while Cynwyd won 12 and lost 6. Germantown C. C. won 7, lost 11, and Phila. C. C. won 4 and lost 14.

Sugar Stamp 40, good for five pounds of canning sugar through February, next year.

Gasoline—In 17 East Coast States, A-10 coupons good through August 8. In States outside the East Coast area, A-11 coupons good through June 21.

Fuel Oil—Periods 4 and 5 coupons, good through September 30. New Period 1 coupons for the 1944-45 heating year may be used as soon as they are received from local boards.

Shoes—Airplane Stamps 1 and 2, good indefinitely.

COUNTRY DEPOSITS UP 137 PER CENT

Demand deposits in country banks (consisting largely of ordinary checking accounts) increased 137 per cent from 1940 to April, 1944, according to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Such an increasing body of idle funds, more than twice that of four years ago, could cause inflationary trouble if country depositors began using their funds to bid against each other for the purchase of land at increasing prices, the BAE advises. Already land values have risen almost two-fifths above their pre-war average—an increase that is inflationary in many areas. Furthermore, in some of the principal farming areas the volume of land sales in 1943 surpassed previous high levels reached in 1919 and the number of farms resold after only a short period of ownership increased. Following the inflation of land values during the last war, land prices broke sharply in 1920.

IDENTIFY VETERANS FULLY

To facilitate prompt reply and to simplify identification, all mail addressed to the Veterans Administration on matters concerning veterans should give the full name of the veteran, the date of his birth, his serial number, rank and organization and the "C" and "N" numbers on any checks or letters received from the Veterans Administration. The master index of this agency contains more than 19 million names. Among these are over 200,000 Smiths, of which at least 12,000 have the given name of John.

CIVILIAN GAS 43 PER CENT OF 1941

Passenger car drivers now receive only 43 per cent as much gasoline as they used in 1941, the Petroleum Administration for War says. While Americans have reduced passenger car mileage from the peacetime level by about 57 per cent, the English have reduced theirs by 88 per cent.

FAMILIES WANT TO BUILD HOMES

In a recent nationwide survey of consumer requirements, a large number of the families interviewed said they intend to use their savings for buying or building a house before buying durable goods, the War Production Board announces. Among durable goods covered in the survey, washing machines are now in greatest demand, with electric irons and mechanical refrigerators next in order.

REFUNDS TO INCOME TAX PAYERS

While one million 1943 income tax refunds have been made by the Treasury Department, it will be several months before all of approximately 18 million taxpayers will get refunds to which they are entitled, according to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue. Each refund, however, will include interest at the rate of 6 per cent per year from March 15, this year, to the date the refund is scheduled. First attention was given to claims of members of the armed forces. No action is needed on the part of the taxpayer unless he has moved from the address shown on his return, in which case he should send both his old and new addresses to the collector of internal revenue in the district in which the return was filed.

CHRISTMAS MAIL TO MEN OVERSEAS

Christmas mail to armed forces overseas this year is expected to exceed last year's record. Plans are now being made by the Post Office, War and Navy Departments to handle this mail. From September 15 to October 15, Christmas gift packages for men overseas will be accepted for mailing if they are no more than five pounds in weight, 15 inches in length and 36 inches in length and girth combined. Only one such package will be accepted from the same person to the same addressee during any one week, the War Department announces.

ROUND-UP

Special consideration will be given returning war veterans who apply for rationed farm machinery, WPA announces. . . A total of 6,098 farm-type wheel tractors were produced during the week ending May 27, which represents the highest wartime production rate yet attained, WPB reports. . . Synthetic vitamin C, which promotes healing of wounds, may now be made from sugar beet pulp through a new shorter process worked out by the National Bureau of Standards.

The Office of Price Administration says: New ceiling prices will increase the retail cost of jumbo shrimp about 7 cents a can and large shrimp about 1 cent a can. . . The June quota of new passenger cars available for rationing is the shortest supply of automobiles since the beginning of the war. . . The new ceiling prices for a 14-ounce can of codfish or haddock flakes will represent an increase of 6 1/4 cents to the individual consumer.

The word salary comes from the Latin, salarium, the part of a Roman soldier's wages he received in salt.

HELP yourself to rare NEW breakfast treat, Post's Raisin Bran. A sumptuous blend of wheat and bran flakes PLUS raisins, it's delicious. It's nourishing. It's new—Advt.

Class of 1945, Lower Merion High School

Ivy Day Exercises

E. E. Burlingame was guest speaker at the traditional Ivy Day exercises, which were held in the Downs Gymnasium, Wednesday, May 31, at 10:30 A. M.

Bob Healey, chairman and president of the '44 class, made a few remarks, after which he introduced Don Palmer, Ivy orator, who said that all his fellow senior classmates hoped they, like the ivy, will flourish in later years.

Alice Sloan, senior, read the following poem, an original composition which was selected by the English Department as being the best contributed for the occasion by any student this year:

THE IVY

The Ivy
Stands against the cold, stone wall
Protecting it
From icy, wintry winds
Sere and brown
It clings
All growth is ceased
The Ivy waits
The Ivy
Clad in garments green
And sober,
Against the sunny wall
Still stands.

Members of the daisy chain—their names announced in a previous column—formed a framework of daisies around the seniors. The sophomore girls, who picked this year's daisies for the chain, and who next year will be entitled to carry it, were:

Following Burlingame's speech, in which he stated there will be many and great opportunities for the youth of America in the post-war world, Penny Richards presented Mr. Gilbert, principal, with a check for $500 as a class gift. The money is to be used for the purpose of building an alcove similar to the Memorial Alcove, near the main foyer, in which will be placed the many athletic trophies the school has acquired.

After the ceremony of passing the "torch" to the next graduating class, which was conducted by Bob Healey, of the '44 class, to Stew Young of the '45 class, the following students went outside to plant the Ivy:

Bob Healey, class president; Penny Richards, vice-president; Dick Whitling, class treasurer and spade man; Peggy Heebner, class secretary and ivy bearer; Alice Sloan, ivy poet; Don Palmer, ivy orator; Phil Harmen, president of the Student Council.

Some 36 junior students took over the duty of maintaining and conducting traffic in the two buildings during the passing of classes last Monday under the direction of Harry Gill, Bill West and V. V. Pearce, vice-principal. Students will use the remainder of the school year to become adjusted to the task, so as to be fully prepared for next year. ## With Ernie Pyle at the Front HOW A B-26 BOMBING CREW SPENDS ITS WORKING HOURS

Fighting an Air War Means Routine; Men 'Work' About Two Hours a Day

By ERNIE PYLE

A B-26 BASE IN ENGLAND—"My crew" of two officers and enlisted men are flying together as team in their B-26 bomber since before leaving America more than a year ago.

Every one of them is now far beyond his allotted number of combat missions.

Every one of them is perfectly willing to go through another complete tour of missions if he can just be home for a month. I believe the same thing is true of almost everybody at this station. And it's a new experience for me, because most of the combat men I've been with before wanted to feel finished forever when they went home.

Every one of "my crew" has the distinguishing flying cross and the air medal. They have had flak through their plane with numerous times, but none of them has ever been hit. They expected it to be rough when the invasion started, but they were anxious to get it over with.

In the past they have usually flown one mission a day over France, with occasionally two as the tempo of the spring bombings increased. But during the invasion they probably flew three and sometimes four missions a day.

They will be in the air before daylight and they will come home from their last mission after dark. They will go for days and maybe weeks in a frenzied routine, eating hurriedly between missions, snatching a few hours of sleep at night, and being up and at it again hours before daylight to shuttle back and forth across the Channel. They and thousands of others like them.

Fighting purely an air war—as this one here has been up to now —is in some ways so routine that it is like running a big business. Usually a B-26 crewman "works" only about two hours a day. He returns to a life that is pretty close to a normal one. There is no ground war to confuse him or disturb him or even inspire him with its horror. His war is highly technical, highly organized, and in a way somewhat academic.

Because of this it is easy to get bored. An air crewman has lots of spare time on his hands. Neither the officers nor the enlisted men have any duties whatever other than flying.

When not flying they either loaf around their own huts, writing letters or playing poker or just sitting in front of the five talking hours and go to the nearest villages. They can go to dances or sit in the local pubs and talk.

And every two weeks they get two days' leave. That again is something new to us who have been in the Mediterranean. Down there, fliers do get leave to go to rest camps, and even to town once in a while if there is a town, but there's nothing regular or automatic about it. These boys up here get their two days' leave twice a month just like clockwork. They can do anything they want with it.

Most of them mgo to London. Others go to nearby cities where they have made acquaintances. They go to dances and night clubs and shows. They paint the town and blow off steam as any active man who lives dangerously must do now and then. They make friends among the British people, and they look up these same friends on the next trip to town.

They do a thousand and one things on their leave, and it does them good. Also, it gradually creates an understanding between the two peoples that the other is all right in his own peculiar way.

After a certain number of missions a crew is usually given two weeks' leave. Most of them spend it traveling. Our fliers often tour Scotland on these leaves. It's amazing the number of men who have been to Edinburgh and who love the place. They have visited Wales and North Ireland and the rugged southwestern coast, and they know the Midlands and the little towns of England.

These two-week leaves don't substitute in the fliers' mind for a trip back to America. That's all they live for. That's what they talk about most of the time.

A goal is what anyone overseas needs—a definite time limit to shoot for. Naturally it isn't possible right at this moment to send many people home, and the fliers appreciate and accept that fact. But since the invasion has started and the first period of furious intensity has passed, our veteran fliers hope to start going home in greater numbers.

Lieut. Bill Collins, who goes by the name of Chief, is what is known as a "hot pilot."

He used to be a fighter pilot, and he handles his Marauder bomber as though it were a fighter. He is daring and everybody calls him a "character," but his crew has a fanatical faith in him.

Chief is addicted to violent evasive action when they're in flak, and the boys like that because it makes them harder to hit. They're had flak through the plane and within a foot of them, but none of them has been wounded.

When they finished their allotted number of missions—which used to give them an automatic trip to America, but doesn't any more—Chief buzzed the home field in celebration of their achievement.

He got that old B-26 wound up in a steep glide, came booming down at the runway, leveled off a foot above the ground and went screaming across the field at 250 miles an hour—only a foot above the ground all the way. And at the same time he had to shoot out all the red flares he had in the plane. They say it looked like a Christmas tree flying down the runway.

Chief used to be a clerk with the Aetna Life Insurance company back in his home town of Hartford, Conn. He is 25 now and doesn't know whether he will go back to the insurance job or not after the war. He says it depends on how much they offer him.

Lieut. Jack Arnold is the one they call Red Dog. He is only 22, although he seems much older to me. He enlisted in the army almost four years ago, when he was just out of high school. He was an infantryman for a year and a half before he finally went to bombardier school and got wings for his chest and bars for his shoulders.

He figures that as a bombardier he has killed thousands of Germans, and he thinks it is an excellent profession. He said the finest bombing experience he has ever had was when they missed the target one day and quite accidentally hit a barracks full of German troops and killed many of them.

Red Dog is friendly and gay and yet he is a fundamentally serious man who takes the war to heart. The enlisted men of his crew say that he isn't afraid of anything, and that the same is true of Chief Collins. They are a cool pair, yet both are as hospitable and friendly as you could imagine.

The plane's engineer-runner is Sgt. Eugene Gaines of New Orleans. He is distinct from the rest because he married a British girl last December.

They have a little apartment in a town eight miles from the field. Every evening Gaines rides his bicycle home, stays till about midnight, then rides back to the air-drome. For you never know when you may be routed out at 2 A. M. on an early mission, and you must be on hand.

It takes him about 45 minutes to ride the eight miles, and he has made the round trip nightly all winter, in the blackout and through indescribable storm. Such is the course of love.

Gaines is a quiet and sincere young man of 24. He was a carpenter before the war, and he figures that will be a pretty good trade to stick to after the war. But if a depression does come he has an ace in the hole. He has a farm at Pearl River, La., and he figures that with a farm in the background you can always be safe and independent.

VACATION from worry about what to serve for breakfast. Magic combination of nut-brown flakes of wheat and bran PLUS raisins. It's NEW Post's Raisin Bran!—Advt.

Gaines wears a plain wedding ring on his left hand. I've noticed that a lot of the married soldiers over here wear wedding rings.

CREWMEN INCLUDE STUDENT, 'COWBOY FROM ARIZONA'

The radioman-gunner is Sgt. John Siebert of Charlestown, Mass. He learned to fly before the war, although he is only 23 now. He had about 800 hours in the air as pilot. Yet because of one defective eye he couldn't get into cadet school.

He had two years at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and he hopes to go back and finish when the war is over.

Sgt. Kermit Pruitt, whom I spoke of the other day, is the tall gunner in "my crew." He's an old cowboy from Arizona.

Pruitt is the talking kind. He talks and sings on the slightest provocation. He likes old cowboy songs. They say that every once in a while he will start singing some cowboy songs over the interphone while they're actually on a bomb run.
